INSTITUTE FOR CLINICAL SOCIAL WORK
Chicago, Illinois

The Institute for Clinical Social Work (ICSW) invites applications and nominations for the position of Dean/Chief Academic Officer.

Located in Chicago, a large urban center and thriving academic metropolis, ICSW is currently the only fully accredited, free standing doctoral program in clinical social work in the nation. ICSW originated within and is sustained by an active and collaborative faculty of psychodynamic clinical social work educators, practitioners and researchers. Since accepting its first class in 1983, ICSW has established a reputation for excellence in clinical training and is now on the brink of major growth and expansion. In addition to the general psychodynamic clinical doctorate, ICSW offers specializations in psychotherapy, child and adolescent treatment, and clinical work with active duty military and veterans. The doctoral program is designed for practicing clinicians and is offered in both onsite and blended distance learning formats. ICSW faculty and graduates have a strong record of producing clinically relevant research and scholarly publications. ICSW enthusiastically anticipates the opening of a clinical master's degree program for the fall of 2012.

We are in search of a Dean/Chief Academic Officer who would have leadership experience in the field of Clinical Social Work and be committed to advancing the psychodynamic clinical social work tradition in its practice and research dimensions. Our ideal candidate will be an innovative and strategic person who is prepared to foster the growth of ICSW's programs while sustaining ICSW's commitment to academic excellence.

The responsibilities of this position include oversight of all aspects of the academic program including student recruitment, leadership for faculty, development of curricula, maintenance and advancement of accreditation standards and strategic plans for growth.
