ES 472: The Clinical Use of Dream Interpretation

Mark Berger, M.D.
(312) 782-0292
mdbergermd1@mac.com

This course is designed to familiarize the student with both the classical and more contemporary views on the usefulness of dreams as part of the treatment process. We will read about and discuss different views as to the best way to understand the meaning of the dreams reported during psychotherapy. The format of the class will be, first, a discussion of an assigned paper and second, the presentation of clinical case material by one of the class members. This course is to be graded pass/fail and the grade will depend one hundred percent on classroom participation.

1. Introduction and case example by instructor

Contents Copyright, Institute for Clinical Social Work