Course Description:

There will be 3 parts to the basic structure of most classes:
1) Lecture and discussion based on the reading *
2) Case conference
3) Professional self/organizational consultation

The heart of this course will be in a case conference format wherein students will present clinical material from their practice setting. The instructor and students will provide feedback based, in part, on questions framed by the presenter. The instructor will focus on: the presenter’s facilitation of a therapeutic alliance, attendance to manifest and latent content meaning within verbatim session material, eliciting countertransference commentary from presenter and furthering the dynamic formulation about the client. Depth treatment planning will be an important objective of case presentations.

The second important companion portion of the class will focus on the burgeoning professional self of each student. The format for work in this area will involve each student presenting in class a professional situation or scenario within their practicum experience. There may be a problem or challenge to focus on. It will be organizational consultation about a practice setting’s unique culture, with an emphasis on the mutual influences of that culture and the student’s professional self. Concepts of transference and familial expectations within an organization will be applied.
Specifically formatted outlines will be provided by the instructor to the students for case presentation and organizational/professional self consultation.

Specific Course Objectives:

The student will demonstrate understanding of the following:

- The importance of organizing their thinking in order to present their clinical work to colleagues.
- Application of models of case formulation from readings, lecture and discussion
- Continuity from CCP 501 Field Placement Seminar I and CCP 521 Field Placement Seminar II
- The essentiality of deepening the understanding of a counseling process by uncovering unconscious content within verbatim process notes

Respect for Diversity, Confidentiality, and Fellow Students: Discussing patients, clinical material, and patients' impact on clinicians can be intense; students are expected to be sensitive to their colleagues' during class discussions, and to protect confidentiality of clinicians and their patients. In addition, students are expected to be respectful of the opinions of others while at the same time striving to support the values of clinical counseling.

Students with Special Needs: Students with special needs or difficulties in learning and completing courses assignments are strongly encouraged to notify instructors as soon as possible so that appropriate resources and accommodations can be provided.

Student Evaluation and Grades: Classroom instructors grade students on their course work and submit written evaluative reports on the caliber of each student’s work. Practicum consultants/supervisors grade students and submit reports each semester evaluating their work. Students’ overall performance will be monitored each semester by the Student Progression Committee.

Grading: The purpose of grading is to provide a learning tool for students, i.e., to provide feedback on progress, strengths and weaknesses, and issues that need to be addressed.

Grading Standards
Grades are assigned according to the following standards:
A  Superior Work  4.0 value
B  Satisfactory Work  3.0 value
C  Marginal Work  2.0 value
F  Failure*  0.0 value *Applies only to Field Placement/Practicum and
P  Pass*  0.0 value Thesis Seminar
AU Audit  0.0 value Auditing a course with approval of instructor
INC Incomplete  0.0 value

Case presentations and presentations related to the professional self within the practicum organization will be graded.

Participation in all areas of the course will be graded.

Grading Decision
- A grade of INC (incomplete) requires the instructor’s written approval. Incomplete grades should be reserved for extenuating circumstances. If an incomplete grade is given, the student must finish any work required to complete the course requirements by the end of the semester. If the course is not completed by this deadline, the student automatically receives an F (Fail) grade for the course.
- Instructors are required to submit full letter grades (not pluses or minuses) within two weeks after the end of each semester. A written evaluation of each student’s performance accompanies the grade.

Practicum Learning Contract and ICSW Consultation attendance
- Submission of a completed Learning Contract to the M.A. Program Director and attendance of 8 consultation meetings with your ICSW clinical consultant are required to pass this course.

Academic Dishonesty: Any student who engages in academic dishonesty, which includes giving or receiving unauthorized aid to any assignment or examination, plagiarism or tampering with grades or irregularities shall be subject to disciplinary action. Such action may include a failing grade in the course, suspension, or dismissal from the program.

Plagiarism Policy: When plagiarism is suspected, students may be asked to submit their papers electronically to a third party plagiarism detection service.
If a student is asked to submit the paper and refuses to do so, the student must provide proof that all work is correctly sited and/or original.

Course Requirements:

Students will bring to bear all of their training thus far and crystallize it into thinking about their own cases and those of their fellows. Candor, economy and depth are all essential as students try to recreate what it is like to be in a therapeutic relationship with their client through a cogent story of that experience. Representative dialogue (from sessions with clients) should be presented to: illustrate the central formulation about the client and to illustrate areas of question the presenter has for the rest of the class.

4. CLASS ATTENDANCE & PARTICIPATION

· You will be participating as a case presenter or respondent on a regular basis, therefore your attendance and participation is integral to the success of this course. You must arrive on time and attend the entire class in order for the aforementioned to occur. Given the condensed schedule, you should not miss any classes. You are allowed two absences during the semester without penalty. Each unexcused absence will result in a penalty of 10% of your overall grade.

· Participation is critical to this class.

Readings: Students are required to read all assigned material and should be prepared to discuss the reading material assigned for each class. *
