CF 665, Development V: Early and Middle Adulthood

Bert Cohler
bert@midway.uchicago.edu
702/955-6950

Saturdays, 1:30-2:45

CF 660 and CF 665 offer an integrated normative and clinical perspective on the second half of life. The goal of the seminar is to provide a context for psychodynamic study and intervention among men and women across the second-half of life. CF 665, Development V, Early and Middle Adulthood, focuses on issues of midlife while CF 660, Development IV: Middle Adulthood and Aging focuses on issues relevant to later adulthood. The seminar focuses on contemporary study of adult lives while including some classic studies as well.

Suggested for Purchase (CF 660 and CF 665):

---

COURSE OUTLINE

Readings to be discussed in seminar are indicated with an (*). Other listed readings provide access to other work in a particular topic.

Fall Semester: Settled Adulthood to Mid-Life

I. Social and Personal Perspectives on Adulthood and the Life-Course (4 Sessions)

II. The Study of Midlife: Personhood and Generativity (5 sessions)

The transition to midlife (1 Session)

Work (1 Session)

Parenthood and Family (3 Sessions)

